OVERVIEW

Oregon received $1.7 billion in Defense spending in Fiscal Year (FY) 2018, which provides direct funding for DoD personnel salaries, defense contracts, and construction of military facilities in the state. This spending by DoD personnel, contractors, and their families creates significant economic activity, attracts related industries and investment, and generates important state and local government tax revenues.

The Readiness and Environmental Protection Integration (REPI) Program is a key tool used by DoD and its partners to protect the military’s ability to train, test, and operate in the state. DoD created the REPI Program in response to the development of lands and loss of habitat in the vicinity of or affecting its installations, ranges, and airspace that can lead to restrictions or costly and inadequate training and testing alternatives. Through REPI, DoD works with state and local governments, conservation organizations, and willing private landowners to address these challenges to the military mission and the viability of DoD installations and ranges. The REPI Program has enjoyed broad bipartisan support both in the U.S. Congress and among groups representing state and local officials. Through FY 2019, DoD and its partners have spent over $10 million on REPI projects at 2 installations in Oregon.

Federal Defense Spending and Economic Impact

* REPI projects refer to any action authorized by 10 USC §2684(a) to include the acquisition of interests in land from willing landowners to prevent incompatible development and protect habitat or any other natural resources management. REPI projects involving the Army or Army National Guard are also termed Army Compatible Use Buffer (ACUB) partnerships. Those involving the Navy, Marine Corps, or Air Force, are also termed encroachment partnering agreements. Eligible partners include conservation organizations and state and local governments.
MILITARY PRESENCE

- Once a Naval Air Station and active duty Air Force Base, Kingsley Field is now the home of the 173rd Fighter Wing of the Oregon Air National Guard, which is responsible for training the best air-to-air combat pilots in the world.

- Stationed at Portland Air National Guard Base, the 142nd Fighter Wing is home to Oregon Air National Guard’s Redhawks, and participates around the globe supporting drug interdiction where needed, U.S. Air Forces in Europe air defense, and contingency operations.

- The crew of the Coast Guard station at Tillamook Bay are responsible for protecting over 2,000 square miles of the Pacific Ocean.

- Naval Weapons Systems Training Facility (NWSTF) Boardman has been used as a military training area for nearly 70 years. It is the primary venue in the Pacific Northwest for air-to-ground bombing practice for naval aviation squadrons.

- Since 1998, Camp Rilea has been used as a “Theatre Specific Individual Readiness Training Site” for National Guard, U.S. Army Reserve, and Regular Army units being sent overseas.
